

Choosing Upper-Division Non-Contiguous (UDNC) Courses

Step 1 - Find the discipline representing your major

Humanities and Fine Arts	Natural Sciences, Math and Engineering	Social Sciences
Chinese Studies Classical Studies Critical Gender Studies German Studies History International Studies (Hist, Lit) Italian Studies Japanese Studies Jewish Studies Latin American Studies Literature Music Philosophy Religion, Study of Russian, East European, and Eurasian Studies Theatre and Dance Third World Studies Visual arts	Bioengineering Biology Chemical Engineering Chemistry Cognitive Science Computer Science Electrical and Computer Engineering Environmental Systems Mathematics Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering NanoEngineering Physics Public Health (see counselor) Scripps Institution of Oceanography Structural Engineering	Anthropology Cognitive Science Communication Critical Gender Studies Economics Ethnic Studies Global Health Human Development Program International Studies (Anth, Bus, Econ, Ling, Poli, Soci) Linguistics Political Science Psychology Public Health (see counselor) Sociology Urban Studies and Planning

Step 2 - Choose two upper-division courses from any department outside of your major discipline

Humanities and Fine Arts	Natural Sciences, Math and Engineering	Social Sciences
Chinese Studies Classical Studies Critical Gender Studies History Japanese Studies Judaic Studies Linguistics (Heritage Language Only) Literature Music Philosophy Religion, Study of Theatre and Dance Third World Studies Visual Arts	Biology Chemistry Cognitive Science Computer Science Environmental Systems Mathematics Physics Scripps Institution of Oceanography	Anthropology Cognitive Science Communication Critical Gender Studies Economics Education Studies Ethnic Studies Linguistics/General Political Science Psychology Sociology Urban Studies and Planning

For Environmental Studies and Public Health (FPMU) courses, see an academic counselor.